green urban/deborah rowe

Urban Green takes radical approach to diversifying urban ecologies. At the heart of Melbourne tactics are used to densify vegetation, offset green emissions, increase biodiversity and reduce the urban heat island effect. An egalitarian move on part of the city; the busiest hub is returned to nature. Green landscape reconnects popular yet severed urban spaces bringing new hybridized meaning to the urban and bucolic landscapes. Vehicular traffic is re-restricted to give human scale to the cities busiest transport node: By omitting the car and advocating use of existing nike/tram/train network, green urban pushes for a more sustainable future.
